Our attention has been directed to this matter in a way that we could not possibly everlook, just as the attention of every business man who uses the roads for freight purposes will be called to the question by paying freight bills prismoss, 55 were received during the made out under the new schedule. Yesterday a number of freight bills were paid at this office, on shipments? made from Philadelphia, Cincinnati. Chicago, and Springfield, H., all on the same character of freight paper. The rate from Philadelphia was 89 cents, from Cincinnati 23 cents, from Chicago, 40 cents, and from Springfield, Ill., 39 cents per hundred pounds. It will be observed that the rates between points in Illinois are out of all proportion to these fixed by the railroads themselves as be tween points in this state and those outside its limits. Thus, the rate from Cincinnati to Decatur, on which route two roads are traversed a distance of ever 250 miles is but a litthe more than one-half of the rate fixed by the commissioners as a "reasonable" compensation for carrying freight over a single road for a distance of 10 miles, from Springfield to Decatur, and not much more than half as much as the rate fixed by these exceedingly good business men for carrying freight from Chicago to Decatur. The sentence had been approved by Gen. Hurlbut. then in command. The time appointed for the execution was but three days off, when a little woman, hands of its captor, arrived in Washington with a letter to Congressman President. Mr. Voorhees, deeply moved by the woman's story and distress, suffered scarcely a moment to elapse before calling with her on pleading for a father's life, to Mr. Lincoln. The three presented themselves to Mr. Lane, who, after making some preparations to join the escort, asked: "What is the charge against your father "He attempted to carry quinine to the enemy.

A Short Talk with W. J. Magee, the Steward of the Poor Farm.

Last evening our reporter had a short interview with Mr. W. J. Magee, the Steward of the Macon County Poor Farm, who fought the furious flames so bravely and exerted himself Wednesday evening to save the insane patients from the doomed asylum during the progress of the destructive conflagration. Mr. Magee's statement of the origin of the fire and the situation of affairs during the conflagration, substantially corroborated the account of the holocaust published in the REPUBLICAN yesterday. First an attempt was made to put out the fire with water carried into the asylum in buckets, but the flames had got beyond control, and then commenced the attempt to take out the patients and remove them to a place of safety. Several of them went out in order, but most of the cranks objected to being removed, and struggled with Mr. Magee and his hired hand, who stood at the door and tried hard to keep the demented fellows from running back; but in spite of the combined efforts of these two men, three of the patients got back into the building and in the extreme and borders on insanity. When William fell from the Wabash bridge at this place, over a year ago, a days of suffering which followed, and turist is wanted just now. when he recovered he made her his wife. They removed to Decatur where he bought a home he was rapidly paying, for; being a good and brave bridge builder, he received good wages. A baby two months old, which was his pride and joy, had come into the family. When he kiesed wife and child on last Monday morning and started to his work he was a hale happy and hopeful young man. A crush of the wheels and his body was drawn from under the cars, his laborated flesh quivering and life extinct. Is it a wonder that the poor wife is inconsolable? That she didn't want him buried but kept in the house where she and her baby could go and look at and (kiss him? That she would not leave the grave until it was filled and rounded, and then had to be led away? Sorrow like that is terrible. Captain Paine, N. G., of Catlin Lodge,
